

DAILY DEMOCRAT FORUM

(Successor to the Maryville Republican)

VOLUME 3.

MARYVILLE, MISSOURI, TUESDAY, SEPT. 3, 1912.

NO. 79.

HE IS NOT ELIGIBLE?

SOME SAY SHERIFF TILSON IS BARRED BY STATUTES.

FROM OFFICE HE SEEKS

Section of Law is Creating Much Speculation and Has Been Put Up to Attorneys for Opinion.

There has been a great deal of discussion and speculation in the last few days in regard to the section of law questioning the eligibility of Sheriff Tilson as a candidate for county treasurer. However, some of the attorneys have looked into the matter in part, and are inclined to the belief that Sheriff Tilson can hold the office of treasurer if he is elected.

The section of the law is from the 1909 revised statutes, and is section 5756, in volume 1. It reads as follows: "Officers ineligible for treasurer—No sheriff, marshal, clerk or collector, or the deputy of any such officer, shall be eligible to the office of treasurer of any county."

Sheriff Tilson's term as sheriff will expire on December 31, and if he is elected treasurer he will take his office on January 1.

The section of the law is creating considerable talk among the people here. It is understood that Mr. Tilson has asked the opinion of several attorneys in regard to the matter and has also asked for an opinion from the attorney general of the state.

COLLEGE OPENED TODAY.

Business School Commenced Term With an Attendance Much Larger Than Last Year.

The Maryville Business college opened their school today and many enrolled, the enrollment being twice as large as it was on the first day of the school term a year ago. The coming year promises to be an eventful one for the Business college.

Those that had enrolled Tuesday were from four states, seven counties and fourteen towns.

TO BUY TENTS FOR STREET FAIR.

M. A. Turner Went to Kansas City Tuesday to Arrange for Exhibition Tents.

M. A. Turner went to Kansas City Tuesday morning to purchase the exhibition tents for the display of machinery at our coming street fair, also for the display of poultry that will be made at that time. Both of these displays promise to be extensive and instructive to all who are interested in those lines.

To Bull Moose Convention.

Dr. D. C. Wilson left Monday evening for St. Louis to attend the Bull Moose convention Tuesday. He stopped in Kansas City to hear Governor Johnson of California Monday night in Convention hall. He was accompanied by his daughter, Miss Edith Wilson, who will be in Kansas City a few weeks for special instructions on the violin under Prof. Worst S. Morse. She will be the guest of Mrs. Martha Weaver, formerly of Maryville.

At McCrory Millinery.

Miss Eva Dawson has returned from a several weeks' stay at the wholesale houses in Omaha and Chicago, and has taken up her work at the McCrory & McCrory millinery. Mrs. May Denny also began work with that company Monday.

Came Here to Locate.

Mrs. John Hawley and Miss Mollie Cook of St. Joseph arrived in Maryville Tuesday and expect to make this city their home. Mrs. Hawley is a sister of Mrs. B. M. Cottrill, living southwest of the city.

Ordered Sent to the Asylum.

Sheriff Tilson left Tuesday with Mrs. Highshoe for the asylum in St. Joseph. Mrs. Highshoe is from Guilford and has been a county patient at the poor farm for a few months.

Returned to Illinois.

Miss Alice Murray, who has been on a visit to her sister, Mrs. Samuel Dempsey, living five miles southwest of Maryville, left Tuesday for her home at Galesburg, Ia.

DEATH AT PICKERING.

James Herrington, 72 Years Old, Dies After Long Illness—Funeral Wednesday.

James Herrington of Pickering, who had been ill for four years from the effect of a stroke, died Tuesday morning at 2 o'clock at his home in Pickering.

The funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Christian church in Pickering, conducted by the pastor, Rev. F. M. Lindenmeyer. The burial will take place in White Oak cemetery.

Mr. Herrington was born in Buchanan county, Missouri, November 18, 1840. The greater part of his life was spent in Northwest Missouri, excepting four years in Oklahoma and four years in Kansas. He was married June 26, 1859, to Lydia E. Yeakley. Twelve children were born to them, nine boys and three girls. The children who survive with the mother are: Mrs. Nannie Hildebrand of Rocky Ford, Col.; J. M. Herrington of Seward, Neb.; J. Ed Herrington of Atchison county, Missouri; J. L. Herrington and Mrs. Nora Myrtle Burch of Pickering, E. F. Herrington of Savannah, and T. L. Herrington of Oklahoma.

Mrs. Herrington had been a member of the Church of Christ since 1859. While living in Kansas some thirty years ago, he became a member of the A. F. and A. M. lodge No. 1, at Smithton, and remained a member of that fraternity to his death. He served three years a soldier during the civil war.

The pallbearers who will serve at the funeral services Wednesday are Joseph Pfeiffer, H. M. Lincoln, James M. Craven, J. L. Neal, Elwood Flakes and Clarence Leech.

BACK FROM AUTO TRIP.

The Robinsons Returned Home Tuesday, Leaving the Car at Ottumwa, Ia.

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Robinson and three sons and Homer Shipp returned to Maryville Tuesday morning on the Burlington train, after a few weeks' automobile trip in the Robinson car. They left the machine at Ottumwa, Ia., where they struck rain.

The party left Maryville a few weeks ago in the auto and went to Chicago, by the way of Des Moines and Davenport, Ia. From Chicago they took a trip to Indiana and then went to Lake Geneva, Wis., where they spent a few days. From that place they went to Elgin, Ill., where they took in the auto races last week, and then to Peoria, Ill., and on to Burlington and Ottumwa, Ia., where they left the car, being unable to make the trip further on account of the heavy rains. They came home on the train from Ottumwa.

Mr. Robinson, in speaking of the trip, said it was a very enjoyable one. He said that he never did see better corn prospects in Iowa and Illinois, and that the wheat and oats and other grains were far better than they have ever been.

TO MAKE ADDRESSES AT MEETING

Dr. H. K. Taylor and J. F. Hull, Two of the Speakers at the Press Meeting in St. Joseph.

Dr. H. K. Taylor, president of the Normal, and J. F. Hull, editor of the Maryville Tribune, are two of the speakers for the banquet of the Northwest Missouri Press association to be given at the Robidoux hotel in St. Joseph on Friday evening. A large attendance will be present at this meeting.

Rev. Love is Better.

Rev. Love, pastor of the Christian church at Burlington Junction, who is ill of typhoid fever, was better Tuesday. The fever must run its course, and the patient is standing the siege very well.

Guests From Illinois.

Mrs. J. A. Klock and her daughter, Mrs. E. P. Reeder of Wyoming, Ill., are guests at the home of Mrs. Klock's sister, Mrs. John Leet, 325 East Fourth street.

Trimming at Parisian.

Miss Panalia Brigman of St. Louis arrived Sunday evening and will trim the coming season for the Parisian Millinery company.

Here From Oklahoma.

Mrs. W. S. Miller of Vinita, Okla., arrived Monday night on a visit to her son, M. A. Miller, and family.

THE FAIRY QUEEN

AND THE MAIDS OF HONOR WILL NOW BE CHOSEN.

FOR THE BIG STREET FAIR

Get Ready For the Parade—All the Little Boys and Girls Can Take Part.

The biggest event of the street fair last year was the children's parade, and a bigger and better parade is anticipated this year than last. The parade will be on the last day of the street fair, Saturday, September 21.

The committee in charge of the parade is as follows: W. M. Oakerson, chairman; M. A. Peery, Miss Besse Scott, Mesdames Berney Harris, Mark Turner, Ellen Noel, D. N. Scott and Henry Martin.

A Fairy Queen will be chosen by a voting contest. In this issue of the paper will be found coupons by which any one may vote for a girl from 8 to 12 years of age for the Fairy Queen. Each coupon voted counts 100 votes for the person for whom they are cast. No person is entitled to vote more than one coupon. The coupon should be clipped from the paper and sealed in an envelope and placed in a box prepared for the coupons at Mark Turner's store or mailed to W. M. Oakerson. The voting contest will close at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening, September 11th. The votes will then be counted by disinterested persons and the girl having the highest number of votes will be selected for the Fairy Queen, and the seven girls having the next largest number of votes respectively will be the maids of honor for the Fairy Queen.

What are you going to prepare for the parade? Now is the time to begin planning for it. Any boy or girl in Nodaway county is entitled to enter the parade. Below is a list of the different classes for which prizes are offered and the prizes offered for each class:

Returned From Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Corwin have returned from their annual fall sojourn in Chicago.

Ben Litts of St. Joseph was a business visitor in the city Monday.

GOOD DAY FOR I. O. O. F.

CONCLAVE A SUCCESS IN SPITE OF BAD WEATHER.

A GRAND LODGE SESSION

Many Visitors Here, Good Speeches by Grand Officers and Fine Degree Work at Night Session.

The I. O. O. F. conclave held in Maryville Monday of the Odd Fellows lodge of Nodaway, Holt, Atchison and Gentry counties was a great success, and the attendance would have been greater if the weather had been clear.

However, the attendance was good, and all of the visiting members seem to be in favor of holding next year's conclave here. Skidmore is also after the meeting for 1913. The matter of the next meeting will not be decided until later.

A special session of the grand lodge was held in the Odd Fellows hall at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon and the grand lodge degree was conferred on about thirty past grands. A. M. Dockery, past grand master, presided at the lodge session. The lodge meeting was followed by a school of instruction by J. W. Wilkerson of St. Louis, who is grand secretary.

In the evening one of the main features was the torchlight parade, which was headed by the Maryville Concert band. It reminded one of one of the old-time political parades. There were 300 or more Odd Fellows in the parade, and after marching around the square they returned to the hall and a meeting of the lodge was held. Two candidates, Henry Foster and J. O. Bolin, were taken in the lodge and were given the initiatory and the first degree. The initiatory was put on by the Maryville degree team and the first degree by the Burlington Junction team. Much praise was heard of the good work on the part of the Burlington Junction team, and also about the Maryville team. The lodge was in session until 12:30 o'clock Monday night.

While the lodge was in session a band concert was given in the court house yard for one hour by the Maryville concert band.

Maryville wants the next meeting of the conclave and efforts will be made to get it here.

CHAMPION FLY SWATTER.

Joseph Parrish of Skidmore Estimates That He Has Swatted 3,295,000 Flies This Season.

Now that fly swatting time is over, Uncle Joseph Parrish, the boss fly swatter and catcher of Skidmore, is counting his fly scalps. After several weeks' work Uncle Joseph has arrived at definite figures on his season's work. He estimates that he has sent 3,295,000 flies into eternity during the past four months.

His basis for counting them is the pint. He has laboriously counted the number of flies it takes to make a pint of carcasses and finds that 8,000 flies, well shaken down and heaped up will make a pint of flies. Large green flies, bottle flies, run about 4,000 to the pint. By actual measurement, Uncle Joseph claims to have caught and swatted 64,000 pints of flies.

Uncle Joseph makes an art and science of fly catching. He cleans his traps thoroughly after each catch and allows only one day's catch or swatting to accumulate in a trap. This cleaning of the traps is done to prevent the hatching of fly eggs in the trap, as Uncle Joseph has found that fly eggs hatch out in two days after being deposited.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Stonecker of Lincoln, Neb., who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wolfers of Pickering and Mrs. Mary Wray of Hopkins, were in Maryville Monday evening on their way home.

C. J. Reeves returned to Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., Monday evening, after a few days' visit in Maryville with Miss Ethel Hill. He is a member of Company E of the engineer corps at Ft. Leavenworth.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gruber and son, Donald, of St. Joseph returned home Monday evening from a three days' visit with Mrs. Gruber's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Whitney.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Johnson of Burlington Junction attended the conclave Monday and were dinner and supper guests of the ladies of the Christian church.

BABIES WON PRIZES.

Several Premiums Were Offered at the Ravenwood Picnic to Doting Fathers and Mothers.

Pretty babies, fat babies, red-haired ones and black-eyed ones and their fathers were all given a chance at the Ravenwood picnic.

The premium for the prettiest boy baby went to Frank Holtman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frances Holtman or Ravenwood. Mr. Holtman also received a prize for being the youngest father.

The premium for the prettiest girl baby went to Ola Slagle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Slagle.

The girl baby having the oldest father was Aileen Hunterston, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. D. J. Hunterston.

For the prettiest black-eyed baby the prize went to Lawrence Getz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Getz of Conception.

The prettiest red haired baby was Wilma Frances Grantham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Grantham.

The fattest baby under 6 months old was Charles Theodore Meyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meyer of Ravenwood.

The blackest haired baby was Geneva Proctor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Proctor of Marshall, Mo., who also received the prize for the baby coming the longest distance to the picnic.

The prettiest twins under 2 years old were Samuel Wray and Smiley Fay Griffey, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Griffey of Ravenwood.

CARRIERS GIVEN MORE PAY.

Seven Rural Carriers Out of Maryville Are Affected by Order Increasing Salaries.

Under authority conferred by the postoffice appropriation bill, Postmaster General Hitchcock Monday increased the salaries of rural letter carriers on standard routes from $1,000 to $1,100 a year, thus affecting seven rural carriers out of the Maryville postoffice. The order will become effective September 30.

The increase provides rural carriers adequate compensation for additional burdens to be imposed by the parcels post system effective January 1.

The parcels post system on rural mail routes can be conducted practically with no extra expense to the government except the increased salary allowance to carriers," said Mr. Hitchcock. "In my judgment this additional cost will be more than offset by an increased revenue, thus insuring the maintenance."

Mr. Hitchcock has directed also that rural mail carriers on the completion of twelve months' service be granted fifteen days' leave with pay.

THOMPSON SUIT IS FILED.

Wife of Former Maryville Resident Asks $500,000 Alimony.

Denver, Col., Sept. 2.—Mrs. Annie L. Thompson, who, with her husband, Alonzo Thompson, once state auditor of Missouri, spiritualist and philanthropist, has come in for considerable notoriety recently by filing suit for divorce and alimony in the sum of $500,000 in the district court against her husband.

The petition filed by Mrs. Thompson, who lives at 1070 Humboldt street, asks for absolute divorce. It contains sensational charges against her husband, the outcome of the feud in the Thompson family that has kept them in court several months.

Infidelity and extreme cruelty are the main charges, though the petition mentions many others.

The aged spiritualist now is living in Missouri, and the summons was served upon him in that state.

A GOOD RAIN.

Was the Best One That Has Yet Fallen in Maryville and This Community This Summer.

Rain fell in Maryville Monday night and Tuesday morning, which was the best rain that has yet fallen in Maryville this summer. The rainfall amounted to 1.9 inches, nearly two inches. The rain was general over Nodaway county and will be a big help to fall pastures.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Broyles of St. Joseph, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ann Broyles, west of Maryville, returned home Monday evening.

Henry and Lorraine Toel, who have been visiting in Maryville for two weeks with relatives, returned to their home in St. Joseph Monday evening.

John Hagan, Luther Fast and Charles Miller of Burlington Junction were in Maryville Monday evening attending the conclave.

WILL GET OUR MAIL

NEW INSTRUCTIONS RECEIVED AS TO SUNDAY MAIL.

LOBBY WILL BE OPENED

And Patrons of Lock Boxes Can Get Their Mail—Hotel Guests to Be Accommodated Also.

Instructions from the postmaster general, modifying the recent ruling shutting down postoffices on Sunday, were not received by Postmaster S. R. Beech until Monday morning, and as a result the "lid" was on tight here Sunday for perhaps the first time in the history of the Maryville office. No mail was delivered at the Maryville office Sunday. The office was closed and the public started to get accustomed to the new schedule on rather a hot day to take the ruling placidly.

The instructions received Monday, however, so modify the previous instructions to close that persons who have lock boxes may receive their mail. In other words, there is not much difference in the new ruling from what it has always been here, except that the delivery and carriers' windows will be closed on that day. All those who have lock boxes will get all mail that is received at the postoffice on Saturday night and on Sunday morning on this day. Likewise guests at the hotels, if they leave a request at the postoffice, will receive their mail, and newspapers will be distributed. Particular stress is laid on the instructions that newspapers addressed to other newspaper offices shall be delivered.

The postmaster is instructed, however, when application is made by patrons of the office for the delivery of important or emergency mail, to sort out such parcels or letters. The lobbies will be open hereafter for a limited time each Sunday.

WILL NOT ACCEPT NOMINATION.

F. L. Flynt, the Only Democrat Selected by the Bull Moose Convention, Declined the Nomination.

F. L. Flynt, who was the only Democrat selected by the Bull Moose convention Saturday at their convention, stated Tuesday that he would decline the nomination of county surveyor on that ticket. Mr. Flynt said that he was a Democrat and was going to vote that ticket this year.

In an afternoon paper in this city Monday it was stated in the heading as follows: "Two new candidates chosen by Bull Moose, rest were picked from lists already in nomination on Democratic and Republican tickets." The people would like to know the names of those Democrats who are already nominated on the Democratic ticket that were selected at the Bull Moose convention. Mr. Flynt was asked by his friends to become a candidate for surveyor in the primaries on the Democratic ticket, but declined on the ground that the office would not provide a decent living unless combined with that of highway engineer.

MARRIAGE LICENSES IN AUGUST.

Fifteen Were Granted in August, 1912, by Recorder Wray.

For the month of August Recorder Wray granted fifteen marriage licenses, and as compared with the month of July it was an increase of three. In August, 1911, there were also fifteen licenses granted, and in July, 1911, there were seventeen issued, as compared with twelve for July, 1912.

Here From Montana.

Frank Stephenson of Miles City, Mont., is in Maryville on a three weeks' visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Stephenson.

Marriage License Granted.

Recorder Wray granted a marriage license Tuesday to Henry Strauch and Miss Helen Masters, both of Maryville.

To Attend School at Ames.

Fred Bellows left Tuesday for Ames, Ia., where he will attend the Iowa agricultural school the coming year.

RAVENWOOD.

We are having a fine rain today—does not rain all the time, but rains awhile and then soaks down awhile, then rains more. Pastures have been suffering badly for rain for some time. Most of them would burn. Many of the stock wells are dry. There are some fine fields of corn, but it is not all good.

On Saturday, August 17th, Z. A. Warden lost by fire all his household goods. He lived five miles southeast of Ravenwood, on the old McHenry farm. There was some insurance on the house and contents.

The Ravenwood annual picnic has come and gone. The first day was Sunday school day, and was well attended and a good program rendered. The second was political day. Mr. Wiles was first to occupy the stand. He presented his own claims and quit. I suppose he aims for every fellow to black his own shoes. Mr. Booher made a fine speech in the evening. George Pat Wright spoke Saturday afternoon, also Dr. Taylor made a good talk late in the evening.

Went to St. Louis.

N. Sisson and John Sprague left for St. Louis Monday night to attend the state convention of the Bull Moose party, which convened today in that city.

Many Driven From Home.

Every year, in many parts of the country, thousands are driven from their homes by coughs and lung diseases. Friends and business are left behind for other climates, but this is costly and not always sure. A better way—the way of multitudes—is to use Dr. King's New Discovery and cure yourself at home. Stay right there, with your friends, and take this safe medicine. Throat and lung troubles find quick relief and health returns. It helps in coughs, colds and grip, croup, whooping cough and sore lungs make it a positive blessing. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by the Orear-Henry Drug Co.

The Taylor-Godbey Wedding.

Nearly four hundred guests were in attendance at the prettiest church wedding Maryville has seen, Monday evening, when Miss Emma Lee Taylor, daughter of President and Mrs. Henry Kirby Taylor of the State Normal, and Mr. Josiah Jernigan Godbey of Arlington, Texas, were united in marriage at the M. E. church, South.

The pulpit was banked with palms and asparagus ferns and carpeted with white, while the aisles and all about the altar were also carpeted in white with festoons of maiden hair fern at the place where the bride and groom knelt to take their vows.

Before the bridal party appeared, Mrs. F. P. Robinson sang two numbers, "I Love You Truly," by Carrie Jacobs Bond, and "Because," by d'Hardelot. The singer's voice, always pure and true, was unusually so at this time, and her sweet interpretation of the songs served to prepare all who heard for the beautiful service that followed. Mrs. Robinson wore a simple white gown of messaline with a pink rose in her hair.

Professor P. O. Landon accompanied Mrs. Robinson and played all the other wedding music. As the bridal party entered the church the wedding chorus from "Lohengrin" was played, and during the ceremony an original theme.

The bridesmaids, Miss Brownie Toel and Miss Donna Sisson, accompanied by the ushers, Professor Victor I. Moore of this city and Mr. Walter Taylor of Portsmouth, O., brother-in-law and brother of the bride, took their places at either side of the altar. They were followed by the little ring bearer and the little flower girl, Master Victor I. Moore, Jr., 5 years old, in white knickerbocker suit, who carried the ring in the heart of a white rose, and Louise Peery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin A. Peery, dressed in filmy white and carrying a basket of pink and white asters. This little couple are receiving many compliments for the manner in which they took their part. They took their places just back of and above the altar.

The lovely young matron of honor, Mrs. Victor I. Moore, a sister of the bride, followed the ring bearer and flower girl. She wore a most becoming gown of pink silk crepe de chene, with trimmings of white shadow lace, carrying an arm bouquet of pink Killarney roses and wearing them in her hair.

The bridegroom and his best man, Mr. Robert Crapton of Louisville, Ky., approached the altar as the matron of honor took her place, then the bride came, alone, down the aisle, the cynosure of all eyes, as the bridegroom took a few steps forward to meet her and led her to the altar, where the minister stood waiting.

The ceremony was most impressively performed by Rev. W. J. Parvin, who closed his ministry with that church the night previous. The ring service was used. The responses were clearly given and no one could fail being impressed by the sacredness of the covenant that was then consummated. Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, and went to the home of the bride's parents to make ready to leave on their honeymoon.

The bride, an attractive little brunette, wore a simply fashioned gown of white duchess satin, entrain, with lace and pearl trimmings on neck and sleeves. Her white tulle veil enveloped her and was held in place by real orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses.

Her bridesmaids were very becomingly gowned. Miss Toel wore white messaline and marquisette with pearl trimmings. Miss Sisson, a white embroidered marquisette, with pink ribbon sash, and each maid carried bouquets of pink and white asters.

When the bridal party arrived at the home of the bride's parents, as the bride ascended the stairway to prepare for the wedding journey, she threw away her bouquet, and it was caught by Miss Brownie Toel.

The bride and groom made quick work in their preparations, and descended the back stairway of the home, where they bade farewell to the bride's father and mother, and left with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roof of Parnell in their automobile for Parnell, where they took the train for Kansas City. The guests downstairs waited and waited for the bride and groom to appear, and a great crowd of other friends waited and waited with a barrel of rice to see them off on the Washburn train at 9:47, until they feared they would be left, and sent in warnings to that effect, when they found the bride had flown.

A party of autoists followed them, however, and caught them at Parnell, just as they were about to get on the train, and none of the rice was wasted after all. The pursuing auto party was composed of the four new brothers-in-law of the bridegroom, Walter and Kirby Taylor, L. C. Gabbert of St. Joseph and Professor V. I. Moore, also Professor L. M. Eck of this city.

Professor and Mrs. Godbey will spend a short time in Kansas City and then go to New Orleans for a few days before going to their home in Arlington, Texas, where Professor Godbey is a member of the faculty of Carlisle Military academy.

No Maryville bride has left her home with more universal love and respect than Mrs. Godbey carries with her, all won by a ladyhood that never fails her, no matter where she may be. She will be sadly missed in her home, her church, in all our social life, but it is a source of satisfaction to all her friends to know that her husband is in all ways worthy of her.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wray of Pickering spent Monday evening in Maryville with Mr. Wray's brother, T. K. Wray, and family.

IF A LAXATIVE IS NEEDED—"CASCARETS"

Salts, Calomel and Cathartic Pills Are Violent—They Act on Bowels as Pepper Acts in Nostrils.

Take a Cascaret tonight and thoroughly cleanse your Liver, Stomach and Bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels.

Remember, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. A 10-cent box from your druggist means healthy bowel action; a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.

Mt. Air Meetings.

Rev. W. B. Royston, pastor of the Mt. Air Methodist church, east of Maryville, is conducting a series of revival meetings, that was started last week. On Monday night he had three conversions. The meetings are starting out nicely and the attendance has been good.

Miserable Dyspeptics.

All the world looks gloomy to the man with the upset stomach. He sees the world through smoked glasses and never tries to rub off the smoke.

Cheer up, Mr. Dyspeptic, there's bright days ahead of you. Go to the Orear-Henry Drug company this very day and say I want a box of MI-O-NA tablets. Take them as directed and if the misery doesn't leave your stomach and bring a sunny smile to your gloomy countenance, go and get your 50 cents back.

MI-O-NA stomach tablets will promptly end the distress of indigestion, will stop nervousness, dizziness, biliousness, sick headache and sleeplessness. Fifty cents buys a large box at the Orear-Henry Drug company and druggists everywhere.

Praisewater Spent $15.29.

John W. Praisewater, who was selected as the Republican candidate for representative at the recent primary, spent $15.29 in his race. M. C. Noland, who was running for the office of Judge of the county court from the south district, spent $18.10.

Uncle Ezra Says

"It don't take more'n a gill uv effort to git folks into a peck of trouble," and a little neglect of constipation, biliousness, indigestion or other liver derangement will do the same. If ailing, take Dr. King's New Life Pills for quick results. Easy, safe, sure, and only 25 cents at the Orear-Henry Drug company.

PRISON MUTINY GROWS SERIOUS

Jackson, Mich., Sleeps in Fear of Convict Uprising.

MEN THOUGHT TO HAVE DYNAMITE

Officials Believe Explosives Were Smuggled In—Prisoners Attack Guards With Knives—Demand Dismissal of Warden.

Jackson, Mich., Sept. 3.—At the close of the fourth day of the riots among the 1,000 convicts at the state prison here, the situation has reached an acute stage.

It is feared that prisoners may make good their threat to blow up the prison.

Two Jackson companies of the state militia have been ordered to be ready and hundreds of citizens have been pressed into service as guards.

Citizens in Terror.

The 35,000 residents of the city are terror stricken and few are sleeping. The howling of the prisoners and the noise made by their pounding on the cells, can be distinctly heard over the entire city. Many residents have barred their doors for the first time and have nailed down the windows of their homes, preferring to suffer from the intense heat.

Prison officials fear explosives have been smuggled in. Only a short time ago the officials discovered a plot to blow up the prison, finding a large quantity of nitroglycerin hidden in the building.

Prisoners armed with knives attached to broom handles attacked several guards and before other officers could beat them off they had inflicted severe wounds.

Overpowered by Chemicals.

More than 40 prisoners have knives and razors and threaten to kill any man who attempts to enter their cells. Several prisoners were overpowered by guards, who poured ammonia and formaldehyde into their cells.

The convicts are demanding the dismissal of Warden Simpson, and declare they will keep up rioting until they win their point. The warden is determined to carry the fight to a finish, and at his request the board of control restored corporal punishment for unruly prisoners. A whipping post will be installed in the prison yard. The riots started last Friday morning, when an attack was made on the steward during the mess hour.

FOUR SISTERS MARRIED AT ONCE

New Matrimonial Record Set When Entire Family of Girls Wed in One Night.

Fort Smith, Ark., Sept. 3.—A new matrimonial record in Arkansas was entered when Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Clark announced that their four daughters were married to four young planters by the same service at the Clark country place near Ozark. The quadruple ceremony united:

Miss Clark, 22 years old, to Taylor McCain, 21; Miss Selma Clark, 15 years old, to Thomas Welch, 22; Miss Jerusha Clark, 17 years old, to George Powell, 20; Miss Gladys Clark, 19 years old, to A. P. Williams, 23.

The brides and bridegrooms, after attending the wedding supper, stayed all night at the Clark residence, and then left for their newly built homes.

SALOON CLOSED NAVY YARD GATE

City issued License in Violation of Agreement With Government—Merchants Lose Trade.

Seattle, Sept. 3.—The Charleston gate of the Puget Sound navy yard which was closed because the city council of Charleston issued an additional saloon license in violation of an agreement with the navy yard, will remain closed. The navy department at Washington has sustained Admiral Coddman, commandant of the yard, in his fight against the new saloon. The new marine barracks is close to the Charleston end of the yard and Charleston merchants are deprived of the trade of the men because of the action of the council.

Duke of Connaught at Edmonton.

Edmonton, Alta., Sept. 3.—The Duke and Duchess of Connaught came to Edmonton today for a two days' visit. Their royal highnesses were welcomed to the province and city by Lieutenant Governor Hulyea, Premier Sifton and Mayor Armstrong at 10 o'clock, after which the governor general drove to the court house, with mounted escort, to receive and reply to the civic and other addresses. The king's representative formally opened the parliament building, costing $1,500,000, in the afternoon. He received an elaborately wrought golden key as a souvenir. The duke will be the guest of honor this evening at an official banquet arranged by the provincial government.

Engine Loses a Driver.

Wichita, Kan., Sept. 3.—While a Frisco passenger train was near Severy, one of the big engine drivers came off and rolled down the right of way. A journal had become heated and the crystallized axle broke in two. Fortunately the engine did not leave the track.

PROGRESSIVES ARE ARRIVING

THREE MEN "MENTIONED" FOR GOVERNOR.

Leaders Believe Expected Fight for Fusion With Old Parties Will Dwindle Away.

St. Louis, Sept. 3.—Three names were being mentioned as possible candidates for governor by the hundred odd delegates already here for the state convention of the Progressive party, which will convene at 11 o'clock in the morning. Albert D. Norton, judge of the St. Louis court of appeals and one of the first men in Missouri to take up the battle for the Progressive cause, appears to be the choice of a great many of the delegates already here.

Arthur N. Sager, former circuit attorney, and Col. Richard Dalton also are being talked of.

That there will be no fusion with either of the old parties appears practically certain. The first 15 counties to send in their credentials from the country were solid against fusion of any sort. Some of the resolutions adopted at the conventions flatly instructed their delegates not to vote for fusion of any form. The St. Louis delegation also are opposed to fusion.

The state Progressive leaders expect to see the expected fight for fusion largely dwindle away.

Henry D. Faxon of Kansas City is being talked of by many as the candidate for lieutenant governor and Arthur M. Hyde of Princeton for attorney general.

It appears probable that the Progressive party might adopt a strong plank in its platform declaring for a bi-partisan judiciary and to carry this idea out would endorse one Republican candidate for the supreme court, one Democratic candidate and put up a Progressive as the third candidate. That plan appears to have considerable support among the delegates.

KANSANS WORKED ON LABOR DAY

Douglas County Men of All Classes Devoted Time to Road Improvement Near Baldwin.

Baldwin, Kan., Sept. 3.—Baldwin and Douglas county men celebrated Labor day by working on the Old Santa Fe Trail ocean to ocean road.

About 30 motor cars, besides a large number of carriages and wagons, worked steadily from 7 until 10 o'clock in the morning, taking the people to work. A band played as they started. Nearly 1,000 people were out from Baldwin, including people of all occupations, printers, clerks, doctors, shopkeepers. The women provided the dinner. Farmers helped with their teams and implements.

SEEKING DYNAMITE PLOT FACTS

Government Sends Secret Service Man to Investigate Lawrence, Mass., Conspiracy.

Washington, Sept. 3.—A secret service operative of the department of justice has been sent to Lawrence, Mass., and Boston, to aid District Attorney French in investigating the alleged violation of interstate commerce laws last winter by the tying of a big bundle of dynamite to a Philadelphia freight car.

Developments in the alleged dynamite planting conspiracy at Lawrence are being watched closely by department heads.

Saloon Keeper Robbed.

St. Joseph, Sept. 3.—Lee Reynolds, a saloonkeeper, was robbed of $1,800 here. He had stepped into a restaurant to telephone for a cab to take him to his home, when someone stole a satchel he had been carrying which contained the money. Of this $1,050 was in cash and the rest in checks. Reynolds suspects a former employee, who is believed to have left for California.

Kansas Kidnapper Dead.

Wellington, Kan., Sept. 3.—Samuel V. Wood, who killed James Thompson and severely wounded Matt Mahanah near Belle Plaine, Kan., two weeks ago while trying to kidnap Mahanah's daughter, died at a hospital here. He shot himself three times when overtaken by a posse of farmers. The wounds caused blood poison.

Debs on the Stump.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 3.—Eugene V. Debs addressed two large meetings here, one at a theater and another in a large hall where several thousand people awaited him. At both meetings Debs declared the working people had nothing to hope for from the Progressive party, which, he said, was thoroughly capitalistic.

Troops Get Three Months' Pay.

Junction City, Kan., Sept. 3.—Thirty thousand dollars is being paid to the troops at Fort Riley, each man receiving three months' pay. The bulk of the troops are returning overland from the maneuvers at Leavenworth and will not be paid until they arrive at the post.

Joplin's "Wild Man" Dead.

Joplin, Mo., Sept. 3.—Joplin's largest and heaviest citizen, William T. Evans, a negro, 55 years old, seven feet tall, and when in good health, weighing 309 pounds, is dead. As a "wild man from Borneo" Evans traveled with a circus for many years. Attired in war paint and feathers he was a ferocious appearing savage.

GREAT FLOODS BROUGHT DEATH

Many Persons Drowned in Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

PROPERTY LOSS WILL BE HEAVY

Railroads Washed Out and Traffic Suspended—Mining Town Undated in Half an Hour.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 3.—Thirty-six persons are known to have been drowned in storms which swept western Pennsylvania and the panhandle of West Virginia. Many others are missing. The Baltimore & Ohio and the Panhandle roads were washed out so traffic is tied up. Through trains were marooned during the night in the flooded districts. Many manufacturing plants are under water and the property damage will be heavy.

Cherry Valley, a mining town on the creek, was flooded within half an hour after the rain began. Foundations of houses were undermined and they toppled over into the flooded streets.

George Gillespie, his wife and four children were drowned in the house and the bodies of the children were found on a mattress floating in four or five feet of water.

Second in a Week.

Cannonsburg, Pa., hardly recovered from a flood last week, suffered heavily. Chatter's creek overflowed its banks and swept through the town flooding the railroad and trolley tracks, and many of the streets. Houses were filled with water, but the residents received warning and got to places of safety. One man, who went back to recover some valuable papers, was crushed in the collapse of his house, and a boy fell into the flood when a porch on which he had taken refuge went down.

At Aveila, Washington county, Henry Crow's house was undermined by a little stream. Mrs. Crow was injured and Crow carried her out, but before he could return for the three children they were swept away.

After a Sultry Day.

After spending their force south and west of Pittsburgh the storms swung north to Butler county, where great damage was done.

The storms came after a day of unusual heat and burst with little warning.

Damage to railroads is very heavy. The Washington branch of the panhandle was so badly washed that all trains were annulled and in spite of the 500 men rushed from Pittsburgh to make repairs it is said several days will elapse before communication will be opened with Washington.

WEST AFTER LIQUOR DEALERS

Oregon's Governor Starts Crusade to Stop Shipments Into Dry Territory.

Portland, Ore., Sept. 3.—Gov. Oswald West, in his crusade against vice in this city, has attacked the breweries and wholesale liquor dealers. Notice that every shipment of liquor into "dry" sections would be followed up was served on the railroad companies as a warning from the governor that the companies accepted such a shipment at their own risk. This move follows intimations that the "blind pigs" were being freely supplied by wholesalers and the governor asks that the list of consignees be made available to state officers. The governor's action is taken as a reply to reports that efforts to recall him had been set afoot by various interests opposed to his activities.

WICHITA BLEACHERS WENT DOWN

Part of Crowd Watching Aquatic Events Thrown in Heap and Women Injured.

Wichita, Kan., Sept. 3.—During the aquatic events at the municipal natatorium here, a section of the bleachers collapsed, injuring two women and a boy. Nicholas Hunk, who was sitting on the top row endeavored to save a little girl from falling under the seats. In doing so, both her feet were caught and crushed. Mrs. E. D. Maddux, who sat nearby, was badly injured when a board fell across her legs. Bert Peters, 6 years old, attempted to jump out of the way and was struck by falling timbers.

Mailmen Want Good Roads.

Hutchinson, Kan., Sept. 3.—A good roads lobby for the next session of the Kansas legislature was established here when the rural letter carriers voted at the Kansas rural letter carriers' convention to send two men to Topeka at the next legislative session to work for legislation for better roads. The state association will pay the expenses of the lobby. One hundred and fifty rural route carriers are attending the convention here.

Buying Mules at Fulton.

Fulton, Mo., Sept. 3.—Stock sales in Fulton were attended by one of the largest crowds of the year. September stock sales are the time for buying mule colts and mules for feeding purposes and many changed hands. Several nearby counties were represented and even Kentucky had a buyer on the ground.

WHAT SAVED HER LIFE

Mrs. Martin Tells About a Painful Experience that Might Have Ended Seriously.

Riversville, W. Va.—Mrs. Dora Martin, in a letter from Riversville, writes: "For three years, I suffered with womanly troubles, and had pains in my back and side. I was nervous and could not sleep at night."

The doctor could not help me. He said I would have to be operated on before I could get better. I thought I would try using Cardui.

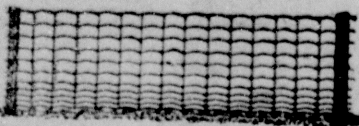

Now, I am entirely well. I am sure Cardui saved my life. I will never be without Cardui in my home. I recommend it to my friends. For fifty years, Cardui has been relieving pain and distress caused by womanly trouble. It will surely help you. It goes to the spot—reaches the trouble—relieves the symptoms, and drives away the cause.

If you suffer from any symptoms of womanly trouble, take Cardui. Your druggist sells and recommends it. Get a bottle from him today.

A SUMMER AT THE SEABREEZE HOTEL

Or How a Pretty Piano Player Won a Millionaire Husband.

By HELEN ROSS.

(Copyright, 1912, by Associated Literary Press.)

Maud Gault extracted a pin from her belt and carefully cut out a tiny advertisement from the newspaper before her.

"Young lady of refinement and culture desired as piano soloist at the Seabreeze hotel, Seabreeze, N. J. Board and room free. Liberal compensation. References desired," she read aloud.

"It's much better than trying to farm on land which will only raise rocks," she mused, "and as a chick-eneer, Maudie, you are not a howling success. I'll ask Jimmy Brooks to take charge of the place this summer. Then if the super-aristocratic Seabreeze hotel will have me, I'll sail forth to make use of my one talent."

The details attended to, and references given, Maud hurried the letter to the postoffice before there was time or opportunity for a change of mind. As luck would have it, the Seabreeze hotel did want her, for in less than a month, she was journeying towards the fashionable summer resort. All that the management had claimed for the position proved true. It was a desirable one. Accustomed as she had been in former happier years to an assured social position, Maud felt the change keenly at first. Soon, however, her common sense triumphed, and she settled down to her really pleasant duties with a will.

People came and went in one continual stream. Occasionally some kindred spirit, struck by the real sparkle and ability of Maud's playing, struck up a superficial acquaintance, but for the most part, for all the attention shown her, she might as well have been in Jericho.

Always a keen observer of human nature, the great hotel offered a rich field for observation. Gradually the humor of the situation struck her and she noticed many amusing details. Petty jealousies, hypocritical actions, heartburns, and aimless flirtations passed before her eyes in a never-ending procession. Then, too, the library was exceptionally good and much of her leisure was spent perusing its fascinating contents. As usual, at a summer resort, men were more or less rare. A male arrival was pounced upon eagerly, especially if he were inclined to be generous with the coin of the realm. To an onlooker the strivings and smallnesses were entertaining.

Several weeks after her arrival she noticed a stranger among the guests, an intellectual-looking, rather shabby young man. Maud reasoned that he must be most obscure since his presence caused not the slightest ripple in the sea of feminine hearts. He was completely ignored.

One evening at dinner, Maud, accompanied by the orchestra, played a number of East Indian melodies. As she stepped from the platform she noticed that the strange young man was regarding her fixedly, his handsome gray eyes filled with dreamy contentment.

"How very peculiar," thought Maud, "the average guest here would rather hear Yankee Doodle."

She went to the library, selected a book and settled down to an evening of quiet enjoyment. Suddenly she was aroused by a voice besides her. It was the shabby young man.

"Miss Gault, I wish to thank you for the pleasure your music has given me," he said in pleasant, well-bred accents.

Soon they were in an animated discussion of music and literature. The stranger was not only a gentleman, but a man of extreme culture as well.

"Why are you not at the beach party?" Maud inquired.

The young man smiled. "Because I was not invited. I can not afford to indulge in expensive summer pastimes. Consequently the girls have no time for me. Anyhow, why should I care when the very prettiest girl in the hotel is right here?"

Maud blushed and smiled, but as the was plain that he was sincere in his opinion, she allowed it to pass. Their talk drifted to lighter subjects, and before long the evening was over. The young man's name was James Clifford, and he was an author, he said.

A friendship sprang up between them which proved a source of great pleasure. Maud tactfully declined Mr. Clifford's simple invitations, vowing that she preferred the beach to all indoor amusements. The real reason was that she knew he was poor and could not afford even a slight sum.

One day they were sitting on the beach chatting when two fashionably dressed girls settled down near them. The last of one blew off and she jumped to her feet in pursuit. It landed at Maud's feet, and as she arose to return it, she and the owner came face to face. The girl laughed harshly, caught up the hat, and without a word of thanks, went back to her companion.

"That's the gifted Miss Gault who pounds the piano at the Seabreeze, with some obscure nobody. We really must go over there some night and listen to the cat concert," she observed sarcastically.

Mr. Clifford glanced at Maud. He knew that she must have heard, yet her expression was one of utter indifference.

"I'm so sorry, Miss Gault," he said.

"It really doesn't matter, I assure you," returned Maud. "Her father is the most corrupt politician in our state. My father, when governor, fought him and his interests for years. He ruined dad at last. Poor man, he died penniless. All he was able to leave me was a stony bit of farmland, while this man Warsh and his daughter are rolling in wealth. No wonder she is bitter—their money never procured a social position for her."

The young man exclaimed in surprise: "Why, you must be Governor Gault's daughter! I admired him more than any man in public life. It is an honor to meet his daughter. He put up a brave fight to protect his state from Warsh, and it will be remembered by the people for many a long day."

They shook hands and straightway forgot all about the incident in discussing the estimable qualities of the late governor.

Mr. Clifford stayed all summer, and before October came he and Maud were engaged to be married.

"I will not always be poor, nor will my wife ever repent her choice," he assured her.

Maud glanced at him proudly. In spite of his unfashionable garments, Mr. Clifford's bearing and appearance was that of a man who is bound to meet with success.

"As though that makes any difference," she whispered.

Summer drifted into autumn, and gradually the merry guests were departing to their homes. For Maud and Mr. Clifford those days were cloudless. Miss Warsh kept her word, and more than once Maud discerned her mocking face among the diners. One evening her harsh tones were audible all over the dining room as she rustled into it.

"Oh, girls, Robert Merrell just arrived. He came in the most stunning motor imaginable. I saw him when I entered the hotel a minute ago. He's at the desk now signing the register."

Breathless excitement followed this announcement. Robert Merrell was one of America's foremost capitalists. Maud sat on the little platform privately speculating as to the appearance of the famous man. When it was time for her solo, she straightway forgot all about him.

Suddenly she was conscious of a buzz of conversation, which died down to an expectant pause. She glanced up and saw two gentlemen enter the dining room. The elder she recognized at once as Robert Merrell. He was conversing with a companion in an affectionate, interested manner. And the other man was John Clifford!

It was fortunate for Maud that her solo ended just then, for she saw her fiancé and Mr. Merrell coming towards her.

"This is my future wife," announced Mr. Clifford proudly.

The great Merrell held out his hand and as Maud placed her own in it, drew her towards him and kissed her cheek.

"I am most happy to meet you, my dear," he said simply. "For years this absurd boy of mine has been afraid that his wealth would influence a girl in his favor. I have always wished him to marry young. Also, I am pleased to have him love Gault's girl."

"His wealth?" stammered Maud. Merrell looked from her to Clifford in surprise.

"I've never told her, father," the young man observed. Turning to Maud he added, "James Clifford is my pen-name. I am writing a book on 'The Worth of Social Position.' As James Merrell I am received with open arms. As James Clifford, to quote Miss Warsh, I am an obscure nobody. It has been an interesting experiment. I took the liberty of asking the hotel people to release you for the short time which remains of the season, and tomorrow we will be married. This is why my father is here. I own this hotel. Come now, dear, we will all dine together."

The trio passed on to a table, oblivious of the frantic curiosity—in fact oblivious to everything but their own happiness. So Miss Warsh's bitter remark "that the sly minx knew it all along," dissolved into the rosy hue of contentment which surrounded them.

NO DECISION ON KANSAS ELECTORS

Federal Judge Sanborn Takes Case Under Advisement.

BOTH SIDES READY TO APPEAL

Matter is to be Taken Before Higher Court for Opinion, No Matter Who Wins in Present Trial.

Denver, Sept. 3.—Judge W. H. Sanborn of the United States court of appeals here, sitting as United States district judge, late in the day took under advisement the case in which an attempt is being made to enjoin Charles Sessions, secretary of state of Kansas, from certifying to the county clerks of Kansas the names of eight national electors who have expressed determination to vote for Roosevelt.

C. I. Long, former senator; Fred J. Stanley, national Republican committeeman, and D. R. Hite represented the plaintiffs, while the defense was represented by John Dawson, attorney general of Kansas, and L. W. Keplinger. Both sides declared a determination to appeal, regardless of Judge Sanborn's decision.

Temporary Order Dead Issue.

The contention of the ten Kansas electors is that President Taft and Vice-President Sherman were nominated for re-election by fraud.

The case originally was brought before Judge Smith McPherson of the sixth federal district, who issued an order temporarily restraining the secretary of state from certifying to the names of these electors and setting the case for hearing in this district.

The temporary order issued by Judge McPherson restraining the canvassing board from certifying the names to the county clerks is agreed to be a dead issue as to the canvassing board, because the names had been certified by the canvassing board before the order was served.

"Party in Kansas is Different"

The plaintiffs contended the regular Republican party of Kansas was that party recognized as such at the Chicago national convention, and the names of the electors who would not support the candidates named at that convention had no right on the regular Republican ticket.

"The Republican party in Kansas is different from the national Republican party," declared L. W. Keplinger, "and the national party has no legal right or authority to dictate to the state party, nor can the federal courts dictate as to how electors may be named, or who shall be named to the electoral college from Kansas."

FIRST DRY PARADE IN SIX YEARS

Kansas City Laboring Men Celebrated Holiday for Once Without Drenching—Nearly 8,000 in Line.

Kansas City, Sept. 3.—For the first time in six years organized labor has celebrated its annual fete day and has given its annual parade without being drenched by September showers. The only apparent moisture in the Labor day parade here was perspiration, noticeable on the faces of some of those who marched in the big industrial army from the Labor Temple at Fourteenth and Woodland to Eighth and Grand avenue. Between 6,000 and 8,000 union men and women were in the parade.

MERCHANTSHIP WENT TO BOTTOM

Crew Had Narrow Escape When Steamer Burned and Sunk.

Baltimore, Sept. 3.—After an outbreak of fire, which rapidly swept through the hold, the steamer Nantucket of the Merchants' and Miners' Transportation company turned over and sank to the bottom of Baltimore harbor. Firemen and members of the crew who had been fighting the flames from the deck of the ship narrowly missed death. Frantically they clung to the masts, stanchions and parts of the rigging as the plunge was made. All about 40 in number, were rescued by fire and police boats. The vessel was valued at $450,000.

Died Awaiting Pensions.

Topeka, Sept. 3.—While congress was holding up the pension appropriation bill last month more than 100 soldiers and sailors paid through the Topeka pension agency, died. In one day 28 pension checks were returned with information that the pensioners had died between August 1 and the time the pension was received.

Because School Was Refused.

St. Joseph, Mo., Sept. 3.—Because her father would not consent to send her to a boarding school, Merle Moore, 22 years old, daughter of J. A. Moore, assistant cashier of the Farmers and Merchants bank of Stanberry, Mo., committed suicide by drinking carbolic acid at her home in Stanberry in the presence of her parents.

Made Ill by Forced Feeding.

London, Sept. 3.—Mrs. Mary Leigh, the suffragette sentenced to five years' penal servitude in London for attempting to burn the Theater Royal in Dublin, has collapsed as a result of prolonged forcible feeding.

FOUGHT ON VEGETABLE DIET

Great Warriors of Homer Were Not Sufferers From Insufficient Domestic Help.

The heroes of Homer prepared their food with their own hands, and were not, therefore, sufferers from insufficient domestics. In the happy simplicity of the Homeric ages, writes Mr. F. W. Hackwood in "Good Cheer," the great heroes who dealt such terrible blows, leaving death and desolation behind them, when they reposed after their exploits, partook of a blameworthy dish of beans or a plate of hominy lentils.

It may be difficult to imagine Diomedes in the act of peeling an onion or Achilles washing cabbage. But although the wise Ulysses roasted, with his own hands, a sirloin of beef, vegetables occupied the most conspicuous places at all the great banquets of ancient Greece.

Parsley formed the crown with which Hercules, as conqueror of the Nemean lion, crowned himself; Anacreon celebrates the plant as the emblem of joy and festivity. Fable makes parsley the food of couriers; the warriors of Homer fed their chargers with it for battle.

The cabbage was adored by the Egyptians, who raised altars to it. Afterward they made this strange god the first dish in their repast. The Greeks and Romans ascribed to it the happy quality of preserving from drunkenness, and looked upon it as a sovereign remedy against paralysis.

Alexander found the onion in Egypt, where the Hebrews had learned to like it. He had it cultivated in Greece, and given as food to his troops, in the belief that it excited martial ardor. Whosoever wishes to preserve his health, says an ancient saw, should eat every morning, before breakfast, young onions and honey. But this does not sound like a very tempting prospect.

Asa is said to be the native soil of the asparagus. Yet the Romans cultivated it with such marvelous success that the stalks raised at Ravenna are said to have weighed three pounds each, and we are asked to believe that the African variety, grown in Libya, reached a height of 12 feet.

TAKE INTEREST IN ANCESTRY

Americans Coming to Believe Study of Genealogy is of Some Consequence.

The growing interest in ancestry indicates that Americans are fast coming to believe that it is of some consequence to know from whom they are descended. Long lines of ancestry are revealed in each person, and this ancestry, if understood, will assist materially in various directions.

It is a pride which deserves encouragement. One cannot know too much about himself, and in acquiring a knowledge of his ancestors he is learning the most important facts about his own personality. This has been demonstrated so many times that it is needless to enter into extended argument to prove the assertion.

Genealogy is the most fascinating branch of history. And well it may be, since it is the one branch which has life. Everything else may be a mere catalogue of dates, but genealogy introduces the student to the actual personages and offers him the most complete means of obtaining an accurate understanding of the occurrences of the past. These are only a few observations regarding this study of ancestry, a study which is becoming more and more popular, and is, in numerous ways, revolutionizing the modern comprehension of events in the historic past.—Magazine of American History.

Along the Peruvian Coast.

Off shore—there was neither bay nor light in the even line of surf—a deserted brigantine at anchor dipped slowly with the long Pacific swells, its yards and decks whitened like a leper from the unmolested frigate birds and sea fowl that made it home. Beyond, here and there, a patched sail of no particular size or shape was barely filled by the lightest of breezes; occasionally as one crept past the outfit developed into a raft on the after part of which raised a rough platform of palm on which was housed the Indian fisherman and his crew or family. A few abandoned square tins—the well-known export tins of Rockefeller—held the drinking water, an earthen pot their food, and on this flimsy contraption they would put out miles to sea. In beating to windward a loose board or piece from a packing case is poked through the crevices to act as a centerboard.—Outing.

A Drummer Boy Astray.

A Scotch story is that of a diminutive drummer in a local brass band, who was in the habit when out parading with his comrades of walking by sound and not by sight, owing to his drug being so high that he was unable to see over it. The band, on Saturday afternoon, paraded usually in one direction, but the other day the leader thought he would change the route a little, and turned down a by-street. The drummer, unaware of this movement, kept on his accustomed way, drumming as hard as ever he could. By and by, after finishing his part, and not hearing the others, he stopped, and, pushing his drum to one side, he looked to see what was the matter. His astonishment may be imagined at finding that he was alone. "Hae!" he cried to some bystanders, "has any o' ye seen a band hereabouts?"—The Argonaut.

HE IS NOT ELIGIBLE?

SOME SAY SHERIFF TILSON IS BARRED BY STATUTES.

FROM OFFICE HE SEEKS

Section of Law Is Creating Much Speculation and Has Been Put Up to Attorneys for Opinion.

There has been a great deal of discussion and speculation in the last few days in regard to the section of law questioning the eligibility of Sheriff Tilson as a candidate for county treasurer. However, some of the attorneys have looked into the matter in part, and are inclined to the belief that Sheriff Tilson can hold the office of treasurer if he is elected.

The section of the law is from the 1909 revised statutes, and is section 5756, in volume 1. It reads as follows: "Officers ineligible for treasurer—No sheriff, marshal, clerk or collector, or the deputy of any such officer, shall be eligible to the office of treasurer of any county."

Sheriff Tilson's term as sheriff will expire on December 31, and if he is elected treasurer he will take his office on January 1.

The section of the law is creating considerable talk among the people here. It is understood that Mr. Tilson has asked the opinion of several attorneys in regard to the matter and has also asked for an opinion from the attorney general of the state.

COLLEGE OPENED TODAY.

Business School Commenced Term With an Attendance Much Larger Than Last Year.

The Maryville Business college opened their school today and many enrolled, the enrollment being twice as large as it was on the first day of the school term a year ago. The coming year promises to be an eventful one for the Business college.

Those that had enrolled Tuesday were from four states, seven counties and fourteen towns.

DEATH AT PICKERING.

James Herrington, 72 Years Old, Dies After Long Illness—Funeral Wednesday.

James Herrington of Pickering, who had been ill for four years from the effect of a stroke, died Tuesday morning at 2 o'clock at his home in Pickering.

The funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Christian church in Pickering, conducted by the pastor, Rev. F. M. Lindenmeyer. The burial will take place in White Oak cemetery.

Mr. Herrington was born in Buchanan county, Missouri, November 18, 1840. The greater part of his life was spent in Northwest Missouri, excepting four years in Oklahoma and fourteen years in Kansas. He was married June 26, 1859, to Lydia E. Yeakley. Twelve children were born to them, nine boys and three girls. The children who survive with the mother are: Mrs. Nannie Hildebrand of Rocky Ford, Col.; J. M. Herrington of Seward, Neb.; J. Ed Herrington of Atchison county, Missouri; J. L. Herrington and Mrs. Nora Myrtle Burch of Pickering, E. F. Herrington of Savannah, and T. L. Herrington of Oklahoma.

Mrs. Herrington had been a member of the Church of Christ since 1859. While living in Kansas some thirty years ago, he became a member of the A. F. and A. M. lodge No. 1, at Smithton, and remained a member of that fraternity to his death. He served three years a soldier during the civil war.

The pallbearers who will serve at the funeral services Wednesday are Joseph Pfeiffer, H. M. Lincoln, James M. Craven, J. L. Neal, Elwood Flakes and Clarence Leech.

BACK FROM AUTO TRIP.

The Robinsons Returned Home Tuesday, Leaving the Car at Ottumwa, Ia.

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Robinson and three sons and Homer Shipps returned to Maryville Tuesday morning on the Burlington train, after a few weeks' automobile trip in the Robinson car. They left the machine at Ottumwa, Ia., where they struck rain.

The party left Maryville a few weeks ago in the auto and went to Chicago, by the way of Des Moines and Davenport, Ia. From Chicago they took a trip to Indiana and then went to Lake Geneva, Wis., where they spent a few days. From that place they went to Elgin, Ill., where they took in the auto races last week, and then to Peoria, Ill., and on to Burlington and Ottumwa, Ia., where they left the car, being unable to make the trip further on account of the heavy rains. They came home on the train from Ottumwa.

Mr. Robinson, in speaking of the trip, said it was a very enjoyable one. He said that he never did see better corn prospects in Iowa and Illinois, and that the wheat and oats and other grains were far better than they have ever been.

THE FAIRY QUEEN

AND THE MAIDS OF HONOR WILL NOW BE CHOSEN.

FOR THE BIG STREET FAIR

Get Ready For the Parade—All the Little Boys and Girls Can Take Part.

The biggest event of the street fair last year was the children's parade, and a bigger and better parade is anticipated this year than last. The parade will be on the last day of the street fair, Saturday, September 21.

The committee in charge of the parade is as follows: W. M. Oakerson, chairman; M. A. Peery, Miss Besse Scott, Mesdames Berney Harris, Mark Turner, Ellen Noel, D. N. Scott and Henry Martin.

A Fairy Queen will be chosen by a voting contest. In this issue of the paper will be found coupons by which any one may vote for a girl from 8 to 12 years of age for the Fairy Queen. Each coupon voted counts 100 votes for the person for whom they are cast. No person is entitled to vote more than one coupon. The coupon should be clipped from the paper and sealed in an envelope and placed in a box prepared for the coupons at Mark Turner's store or mailed to W. M. Oakerson. The voting contest will close at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening, September 11th. The votes will then be counted by disinterested persons and the girl having the highest number of votes will be selected for the Fairy Queen, and the seven girls having the next largest number of votes respectively will be the maids of honor for the Fairy Queen.

What are you going to prepare for the parade? Now is the time to begin planning for it. Any boy or girl in Nodaway county is entitled to enter the parade. Below is a list of the different classes for which prizes are offered and the prizes offered for each class:

While the lodge was in session a band concert was given in the court house yard for one hour by the Maryville concert band.

Maryville wants the next meeting of the conclave and efforts will be made to get it here.

GOOD DAY FOR I. O. O. F.

CONCLAVE A SUCCESS IN SPITE OF BAD WEATHER.

A GRAND LODGE SESSION

Many Visitors Here, Good Speeches by Grand Officers and Fine Degree Work at Night Session.

The I. O. O. F. conclave held in Maryville Monday of the Odd Fellows lodges of Nodaway, Holt, Atchison and Gentry counties was a great success, and the attendance would have been greater if the weather had been clear.

However, the attendance was good, and all of the visiting members seem to be in favor of holding next year's conclave here. Skidmore is also after the meeting for 1913. The matter of the next meeting will not be decided until later.

A special session of the grand lodge was held in the Odd Fellows hall at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon and the grand lodge degree was conferred on about thirty past grands. A. M. Dockery, past grand master, presided at the lodge session. The lodge meeting was followed by a school of instruction by J. W. Wilkerson of St. Louis, who is grand secretary.

In the evening one of the main features was the torchlight parade, which was headed by the Maryville Concert band. It reminded one of one of the old-time political parades. There were 300 or more Odd Fellows in the parade, and after marching around the square they returned to the hall and a meeting of the lodge was held. Two candidates, Henry Foster and J. O. Bolin, were taken in the lodge and were given the initiatory and the first degree. The initiatory was put on by the Maryville degree team and the first degree by the Burlington Junction team. Much praise was heard of the good work on the part of the Burlington Junction team, and also about the Maryville team. The lodge was in session until 12:30 o'clock Monday night.

While the lodge was in session a band concert was given in the court house yard for one hour by the Maryville concert band.

Maryville wants the next meeting of the conclave and efforts will be made to get it here.

CHAMPION FLY SWATTER.

Joseph Parrish of Skidmore Estimates That He Has Swatted 3,295,000 Flies This Season.

Now that fly swatting time is over, Uncle Joseph Parrish, the boss fly swatter and catcher of Skidmore, is counting his fly scalps. After several weeks' work Uncle Joseph has arrived at definite figures on his season's work. He estimates that he has sent 3,295,000 flies into eternity during the past four months.

His basis for counting them is the pint. He has laboriously counted the number of flies it takes to make a pint of carcasses and finds that 8,000 flies, well shaken down and heaped up will make a pint of fly corpses. Large green flies, both males, run about 4,000 to the pint. By actual measurement, Uncle Joseph claims to have caught and swatted 64,000 pints of flies.

Uncle Joseph makes an art and science of fly catching. He cleans his traps thoroughly after each catch and allows only one day's catch or swatting to accumulate in a trap. This cleaning of the traps is done to prevent the hatching of fly eggs in the trap, as Uncle Joseph has found that fly eggs hatch out in two days after being deposited.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Slonecker of Lincoln, Neb., who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wolfers of Pickering and Mrs. Mary Wray of Hopkins, were in Maryville Monday evening on their way home.

C. J. Reeves returned to Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., Monday evening, after a few days' visit in Maryville with Miss Ethel Hill. He is a member of Company E of the engineer corps at Ft. Leavenworth.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gruber and son, Donald, of St. Joseph returned home Monday evening from a three days' visit with Mrs. Gruber's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Whitney.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Johnson of Burlington Junction attended the conclave Monday and were dinner and supper guests of the ladies of the Christian church.

BABIES WON PRIZES.

Several Premiums Were Offered at the Ravenwood Picnic to Doting Fathers and Mothers.

Pretty babies, fat babies, red-haired ones and black-eyed ones and their fathers were all given a chance at the Ravenwood picnic.

The premium for the prettiest boy baby went to Frank Holtman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frances Holtman or Ravenwood. Mr. Holtman also received a prize for being the youngest father.

The premium for the prettiest girl baby went to Ola Slagle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Slagle.

The girl baby having the oldest father was Alleen Hunter, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. D. J. Hunter.

For the prettiest black-eyed baby the prize went to Lawrence Getz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Getz of Conception.

The prettiest red haired baby was Wilma Frances Grantham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Grantham.

The fattest baby under 6 months old was Charles Theodore Meyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meyer of Ravenwood.

The blackest haired baby was Geneva Proctor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Proctor of Marshall, Mo., who also received the prize for the baby coming the longest distance to the picnic.

The prettiest twins under 2 years old were Samuel Wray and Smiley Fay Griffey, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Griffey of Ravenwood.

CARRIERS GIVEN MORE PAY.

Seven Rural Carriers Out of Maryville Are Affected by Order Increasing Salaries.

Under authority conferred by the postoffice appropriation bill, Postmaster General Hitchcock Monday increased the salaries of rural letter carriers on standard routes from $1,000 to $1,100 a year, thus affecting seven rural carriers out of the Maryville postoffice. The order will become effective September 30.

The increase provides rural carriers adequate compensation for additional burdens to be imposed by the parcels post system effective January 1.

The parcels post system on rural mail routes can be conducted practically with no extra expense to the government except the increased salary allowance to carriers," said Mr. Hitchcock. "In my judgment this additional cost will be more than offset by an increased revenue, thus insuring the maintenance."

Mr. Hitchcock has directed also that rural mail carriers on the completion of twelve months' service be granted fifteen days' leave with pay.

THOMPSON SUIT IS FILED.

Wife of Former Maryville Resident Asks $500,000 Alimony.

Denver, Col., Sept. 2.—Mrs. Annie L. Thompson, who, with her husband, Alonzo Thompson, once state auditor of Missouri, spiritualist and philanthropist, has come in for considerable notoriety recently by filing suit for divorce and alimony in the sum of $500,000 in the district court against her husband.

The petition filed by Mrs. Thompson, who lives at 1070 Humboldt street, asks for absolute divorce. It contains sensational charges against her husband, the outcome of the feud in the Thompson family that has kept them in court several months.

Infidelity and extreme cruelty are the main charges, though the petition mentions many others.

The aged spiritualist now is living in Missouri, and the summons was served upon him in that state.

A GOOD RAIN.

Was the Best One That Has Yet Fallen in Maryville and This Community This Summer.

Rain fell in Maryville Monday night and Tuesday morning, which was the best rain that has yet fallen in Maryville this summer. The rainfall amounted to 1.9 inches, nearly two inches. The rain was general over Nodaway county and will be a big help to fall pastures.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Broyles of St. Joseph, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Asa Broyles, west of Maryville, returned home Monday evening.

Henry and Lorraine Toel, who have been visiting in Maryville for two weeks with relatives, returned to their home in St. Joseph Monday evening.

John Hagan, Luther East and Charles Miller of Burlington Junction were in Maryville Monday evening attending the conclave.

WILL GET OUR MAIL

NEW INSTRUCTIONS RECEIVED AS TO SUNDAY MAIL.

LOBBY WILL BE OPENED

And Patrons of Lock Boxes Can Get Their Mail—Hotel Guests to Be Accommodated Also.

Instructions from the postmaster general, modifying the recent ruling shutting down postoffices on Sunday, were not received by Postmaster S. R. Beech until Monday morning, and as a result the "lid" was on tight here Sunday for perhaps the first time in the history of the Maryville office. No mail was delivered at the Maryville office Sunday. The office was closed and the public started to get accustomed to the new schedule on rather a hot day to take the ruling placidly.

The instructions received Monday, however, so modify the previous instructions to close that persons who have lock boxes may receive their mail. In other words, there is not much difference in the new ruling from what it has always been here, except that the delivery and carriers' windows will be closed on that day. All those who have lock boxes will get all mail that is received at the postoffice on Saturday night and on Sunday morning on this day. Likewise guests at the hotels, if they leave a request at the postoffice, will receive their mail, and newspapers will be distributed. Particular stress is laid on the instructions that newspapers addressed to other newspaper offices shall be delivered.

The postmaster is instructed, however, when application is made by patrons of the office for the delivery of important or emergency mail, to sort out such parcels or letters. The lobbies will be open hereafter for a limited time each Sunday.

WILL NOT ACCEPT NOMINATION.

F. L. Flynt, the Only Democrat Selected by the Bull Moose Convention, Declined the Nomination.

F. L. Flynt, who was the only Democrat selected by the Bull Moose convention Saturday at their convention, stated Tuesday that he would decline the nomination of county surveyor on that ticket. Mr. Flynt said that he was a Democrat and was going to vote that ticket this year.

In an afternoon paper in this city Monday it was stated in the heading as follows: "Two new candidates chosen by Bull Moose, rest were picked from lists already in nomination on Democratic and Republican tickets." The people would like to know the names of those Democrats who are already nominated on the Democratic ticket that were selected at the Bull Moose convention. Mr. Flynt was asked by his friends to become a candidate for surveyor in the primaries on the Democratic ticket, but declined on the ground that the office would not provide a decent living unless combined with that of highway engineer.

MARRIAGE LICENSES IN AUGUST.

Fifteen Were Granted in August, 1912, by Recorder Wray.

For the month of August Recorder Wray granted fifteen marriage licenses, and as compared with the month of July it was an increase of three. In August, 1911, there were also fifteen licenses granted, and in July, 1911, there were seventeen issued, as compared with twelve for July, 1912.

RAVENWOOD.

We are having a fine rain today—does not rain all the time, but rains awhile and then soaks down awhile, then rains more. Pastures have been suffering badly for rain for some time. Most of them would burn. Many of the stock wells are dry. There are some fine fields of corn, but it is not all good.

On Saturday, August 17th, Z. A. Warden lost by fire all his household goods. He lived five miles southeast of Ravenwood, on the old McHenry farm. There was some insurance on the house and contents.

The Ravenwood annual picnic has come and gone. The first day was Sunday school day, and was well attended and a good program rendered. The second was political day. Mr. Wiles was first to occupy the stand. He presented his own claims and quit. I suppose he aims for every fellow to black his own shoes. Mr. Booher made a fine speech in the evening. George Pat Wright spoke Saturday afternoon, also Dr. Taylor made a good talk late in the evening.

Many Driven From Home.

Every year, in many parts of the country, thousands are driven from their homes by coughs and lung diseases. Friends and business are left behind for other climates, but this is costly and not always sure. A better way—the way of multitudes—is to use Dr. King's New Discovery and cure yourself at home. Stay right there, with your friends, and take this safe medicine. Throat and lung troubles find quick relief and health returns. It helps in coughs, colds and grip. Croup, whooping cough and sore lungs make it a positive blessing. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by the Orear-Henry Drug Co.

Mrs. Elizabeth Moore of Guilford and her daughter, Mrs. Emma Olson of Stanberry were business visitors in the city Monday.

The Taylor-Godbey Wedding.

Nearly four hundred guests were in attendance at the prettiest church wedding Maryville has seen, Monday evening, when Miss Emma Lee Taylor, daughter of President and Mrs. Henry Kirby Taylor of the State Normal, and Mr. Josiah Jeruigen Godbey of Arlington, Texas, were united in marriage at the M. E. church, South.

The pulpit was banked with palms and asparagus ferns and carpeted with white, while the aisles and all about the altar were also carpeted in white with festoons of maiden hair fern at the place where the bride and groom knelt to take their vows.

Before the bridal party appeared, Mrs. F. P. Robinson sang two numbers, "I Love You Truly," by Carrie Jacobs Bond, and "Because," by d'Hardelot. The singer's voice, always pure and true, was unusually so at this time, and her sweet interpretation of the songs served to prepare all who heard for the beautiful service that followed. Mrs. Robinson wore a simple white gown of messaline with a pink rose in her hair.

Professor P. O. Landon accompanied Mrs. Robinson and played all the other wedding music. As the bridal party entered the church the wedding chorus from "Lohengrin" was played, and during the ceremony an original theme.

The bridesmaids, Miss Brownie Toel and Miss Donna Sisson, accompanied by the ushers, Professor Victor I. Moore of this city and Mr. Walter Taylor of Portsmouth, O., brother-in-law and brother of the bride, took their places at either side of the altar. They were followed by the little ring bearer and the little flower girl, Master Victor I. Moore, Jr., 5 years old, in white knickerbocker suit, who carried the ring in the heart of a white rose, and Louise Peery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin A. Peery, dressed in filmy white and carrying a basket of pink and white asters. This little couple are receiving many compliments for the manner in which they took their part. They took their places just back of and above the altar.

The lovely young matron of honor, Mrs. Victor I. Moore, a sister of the bride, followed the ring bearer and flower girl. She wore a most becoming gown of pink silk crepe de chene, with trimmings of white shadow lace, carrying an arm bouquet of pink Killarney roses and wearing them in her hair.

The bridegroom and his best man, Mr. Robert Crapston of Louisville, Ky., approached the altar as the matron of honor took her place, then the bride came, alone, down the aisle, the cynosure of all eyes, as the bridegroom took a few steps forward to meet her and led her to the altar, where the minister stood waiting.

The ceremony was most impressively performed by Rev. W. J. Parvin, who closed his ministry with that church the night previous. The ring service was used. The responses were clearly given and no one could fail being impressed by the sacredness of the covenant that was then consummated. Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, and went to the home of the bride's parents to make ready to leave on their honeymoon.

The bride, an attractive little brunette, wore a simply fashioned gown of white duchess satin, entrain, with lace and pearl trimmings on neck and sleeves. Her white tulle veil enveloped her and was held in place by real orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses.

Her bridesmaids were very becomingly gowned. Miss Toel wore white messaline and marquisette with pearl trimmings. Miss Sisson, a white embroidered marquisette, with pink ribbon sash, and each maid carried bouquets of pink and white asters.

When the bridal party arrived at the home of the bride's parents, as the bride ascended the stairway to prepare for the wedding journey, she threw away her bouquet, and it was caught by Miss Brownie Toel.

The bride and groom made quick work in their preparations, and descended the back stairway of the home, where they bade farewell to the bride's father and mother, and left with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roof of Parnell in their automobile for Parnell, where they took the train for Kansas City. The guests downstairs waited and waited for the bride and groom to appear, and a great crowd of other friends waited and waited with a barrel of rice to see them off on the Wash train at 9:47, until they feared they would be left, and sent in warnings to that effect, when they found the birds had flown.

A party of autoists followed them, however, and caught them at Parnell, just as they were about to get on the train, and none of the rice was wasted after all. The pursuing auto party was composed of the four new brothers-in-law of the bridegroom, Walter and Kirby Taylor, L. C. Gabbert of St. Joseph and Professor V. I. Moore, also Professor L. M. Eek of this city.

Professor and Mrs. Godbey will spend a short time in Kansas City and then go to New Orleans for a few days before going to their home in Arlington, Texas, where Professor Godbey is a member of the faculty of Carlisle Military academy.

No Maryville bride has left her home with more universal love and respect than Mrs. Godbey carries with her, all won by a ladyhood that never fails her, no matter where she may be. She will be sadly missed in her home, her church, in all our social life, but it is a source of satisfaction to all her friends to know that her husband is in all ways worthy of her.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wray of Pickering spent Monday evening in Maryville with Mr. Wray's brother, T. K. Wray, and family.

School books and supplies. All kinds. Hotchkiss' Variety Store.

Gene Martin returned to his home in St. Joseph Tuesday morning, after a few days' visit in Maryville with relatives.

IF A LAXATIVE IS NEEDED—"CASCARETS"

Salts, Calomel and Cathartic Pills Are Violent—They Act on Bowels as Pepper Acts in Nostrils.

Take a Cascaret tonight and thoroughly cleanse your Liver, Stomach and Bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels.

Remember, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. A 10-cent box from your druggist means healthy bowel action; a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.

Mt. Air Meetings.

Rev. W. B. Royston, pastor of the Mt. Air Methodist church, east of Maryville, is conducting a series of revival meetings, that was started last week. On Monday night he had three conversions. The meetings are starting out nicely and the attendance has been good.

Miserable Dyspeptics.

All the world looks gloomy to the man with the upset stomach. He sees the world through smoked glasses and never tries to rub off the smoke.

Cheer up, Mr. Dyspeptic, there's bright days ahead of you. Go to the Orear-Henry Drug company this very day and say I want a box of MI-O-NA tablets. Take them as directed and if the misery doesn't leave your stomach and bring a sunny smile to your gloomy countenance, go and get your 50 cents back.

MI-O-NA stomach tablets will promptly end the distress of indigestion, will stop nervousness, dizziness, biliousness, sick headache and sleeplessness. Fifty cents buys a large box at the Orear-Henry Drug company and druggists everywhere.

Praisewater Spent $15.29.

John W. Praisewater, who was selected as the Republican candidate for representative at the recent primary, spent $15.29 in his race. M. C. Noland, who was running for the office of judge of the county court from the south district, spent $18.10.

Uncle Ezra Says

"It don't take more'n a gill uv effort to git folks into a peck of trouble," and a little neglect of constipation, biliousness, indigestion or other liver derangement will do the same. If ailing, take Dr. King's New Life Pills for quick results. Easy, safe, sure, and only 25 cents at the Orear-Henry Drug company.

PRISON MUTINY GROWS SERIOUS

Jackson, Mich., Sleeps in Fear of Convict Uprising.

MEN THOUGHT TO HAVE DYNAMITE

Officials Believe Explosives Were Smuggled In—Prisoners Attack Guards With Knives—Demand Dismissal of Warden.

Jackson, Mich., Sept. 3.—At the close of the fourth day of the riots among the 1,000 convicts at the state prison here, the situation has reached an acute stage.

It is feared that prisoners may make good their threat to blow up the prison.

Two Jackson companies of the state militia have been ordered to be ready and hundreds of citizens have been pressed into service as guards.

Citizens in Terror.

The 35,000 residents of the city are terror stricken and few are sleeping. The howling of the prisoners and the noise made by their pounding on the cells, can be distinctly heard over the entire city. Many residents have barred their doors for the first time and have nailed down the windows of their homes, preferring to suffer from the intense heat.

Prison officials fear explosives have been smuggled in. Only a short time ago the officials discovered a plot to blow up the prison, finding a large quantity of nitroglycerin hidden in the building.

Prisoners armed with knives attacked guards and before other officers could beat them off they had inflicted severe wounds.

Overpowered by Chemicals.

More than 40 prisoners have knives and razors and threaten to kill any man who attempts to enter their cells. Several prisoners were overpowered by guards, who poured ammonia and formaldehyde into their cells.

The convicts are demanding the dismissal of Warden Simpson, and declare they will keep up rioting until they win their point. The warden is determined to carry the fight to a finish, and at his request the board of control restored corporal punishment for unruly prisoners. A whipping post will be installed in the prison yard. The riots started last Friday morning, when an attack was made on the steward during the mess hour.

FOUR SISTERS MARRIED AT ONCE

New Matrimonial Record Set When Entire Family of Girls Wed in One Night.

Fort Smith, Ark., Sept. 3.—A new matrimonial record in Arkansas was entered when Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Clark announced that their four daughters were married to four young planters by the same service at the Clark country place near Ozark. The quadruple ceremony united:

Miss Clark, 22 years old, to Taylor McCain, 21; Miss Selma Clark, 15 years old, to Thomas Welch, 22; Miss Jerusha Clark, 17 years old, to George Powell, 20; Miss Gladys Clark, 19 years old, to A. P. Williams, 23.

The brides and bridegrooms, after attending the wedding supper, stayed all night at the Clark residence, and then left for their newly built homes.

SALOON CLOSED NAVY YARD GATE

City Issued License in Violation of Agreement With Government—Merchants Lose Trade.

Seattle, Sept. 3.—The Charleston gate of the Puget Sound navy yard which was closed because the city council of Charleston issued an additional saloon license in violation of an agreement with the navy yard, will remain closed. The navy department at Washington has sustained Admiral Coddman, commandant of the yard, in his fight against the new saloon. The new marine barracks is close to the Charleston end of the yard and Charleston merchants are deprived of the trade of the men because of the action of the council.

Duke of Connaught at Edmonton. Edmonton, Alta., Sept. 3.—The Duke and Duchess of Connaught came to Edmonton today for a two days' visit. Their royal highnesses were welcomed to the province and city by Lieutenant Governor Bulley, Premier Sifton and Mayor Armstrong at 10 o'clock, after which the governor general drove to the court house, with mounted escort, to receive and reply to the civic and other addresses. The king's representative formally opened the parliament building, costing $1,500,000, in the afternoon. He received an elaborately wrought golden key as a souvenir. The duke will be the guest of honor this evening at an official banquet arranged by the provincial government.

Engine Loses a Driver.

Wichita, Kan., Sept. 3.—While a Frisco passenger train was near Severy, one of the big engine drivers came off and rolled down the right of way. A journal had become heated and the crystallized axle broke in two. Fortunately the engine did not leave the track.

PROGRESSIVES ARE ARRIVING

THREE MEN "MENTIONED" FOR GOVERNOR.

Leaders Believe Expected Fight for Fusion With Old Parties Will Dwindle Away.

St. Louis, Sept. 3.—Three names were being mentioned as possible candidates for governor by the hundred odd delegates already here for the state convention of the Progressive party, which will convene at 11 o'clock in the morning. Albert D. Norton, judge of the St. Louis court of appeals and one of the first men in Missouri to take up the battle for the Progressive cause, appears to be the choice of a great many of the delegates already here.

Arthur N. Sager, former circuit attorney, and Col. Richard Dalton also are being talked of.

That there will be no fusion with either of the old parties appears practically certain. The first 15 counties to send in their credentials from the country were solid against fusion of any sort. Some of the resolutions adopted at the conventions flatly instructed their delegates not to vote for fusion of any form. The St. Louis delegation of 201 and the Kansas City delegation also are opposed to fusion.

The state Progressive leaders expect to see the expected fight for fusion largely dwindle away.

Henry D. Faxon of Kansas City is being talked of by many as the candidate for lieutenant governor and Arthur M. Hyde of Princeton for attorney general.

It appears probable that the Progressive party might adopt a strong plank in its platform declaring for a bi-partisan judiciary and to carry this idea out would endorse one Republican candidate for the supreme court, one Democratic candidate and put up a Progressive as the third candidate. That plan appears to have considerable support among the delegates.

Douglas County Men of All Classes Devoted Time to Road Improvement Near Baldwin.

Baldwin, Kan., Sept. 3.—Baldwin and Douglas county men celebrated Labor day by working on the Old Santa Fe Trail ocean to ocean road.

About 30 motor cars, besides a large number of carriages and wagons, worked steadily from 7 until 10 o'clock in the morning, taking the people to work. A band played as they started. Nearly 1,000 people were out from Baldwin, including people of all occupations, printers, clerks, doctors, shopkeepers. The women provided the dinner. Farmers helped with their teams and implements.

SEEKING DYNAMITE PLOT FACTS

Government Sends Secret Service Men to Investigate Lawrence, Mass., Conspiracy.

Washington, Sept. 3.—A secret service operative of the department of justice has been sent to Lawrence, Mass., and Boston, to aid District Attorney French in investigating the alleged violation of interstate commerce laws last winter by the tying of a big bundle of dynamite to a Philadelphia freight car.

Developments in the alleged dynamite planting conspiracy at Lawrence are being watched closely by department heads.

Saloon Keeper Robbed.

St. Joseph, Sept. 3.—Lee Reynolds, a saloonkeeper, was robbed of $1,800 here. He had stepped into a restaurant to telephone for a cab to take him to his home, when someone stole a satchel he had been carrying which contained the money. Of this $1,850 was in cash and the rest in checks. Reynolds suspects a former employee, who is believed to have left for California.

Kansas Kidnapper Dead.

Wellington, Kan., Sept. 3.—Samuel V. Wood, who killed James Thompson and severely wounded Matt Manahan near Belle Plaine, Kan., two weeks ago while trying to kidnap Manahan's daughter, died at a hospital here. He shot himself three times when overtaken by a posse of farmers. The wounds caused blood poison.

Debs on the Stump.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 3.—Eugene V. Debs addressed two large meetings here, one at a theater and another in a large hall where several thousand people awaited him. At both meetings Debs declared the working people had nothing to hope for from the Progressive party, which, he said, was thoroughly capitalist.

Troops Get Three Months' Pay.

Junction City, Kan., Sept. 3.—Thirty thousand dollars is being paid to the troops at Fort Riley, each man receiving three months' pay. The bulk of the troops are returning overland from the maneuvers at Leavenworth and will not be paid until they arrive at the post.

Joplin's "Wild Man" Dead.

Joplin, Mo., Sept. 3.—Joplin's largest and heaviest citizen, William T. Evans, a negro, 55 years old, seven feet tall, and when in good health, weighing 309 pounds, is dead. As a "wild man from Borneo" Evans traveled with a circus for many years. Attired in war paint and feathers he was a ferocious appearing savage.

GREAT FLOODS BROUGHT DEATH

Many Persons Drowned in Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

PROPERTY LOSS WILL BE HEAVY

Railroads Washed Out and Traffic Suspended—Mining Town Undated in Half an Hour.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 3.—Thirty-six persons are known to have been drowned in storms which swept western Pennsylvania and the panhandle of West Virginia. Many others are missing. The Baltimore & Ohio and the Panhandle roads were washed out so traffic is tied up. Through trains were marooned during the night in the flooded districts. Many manufacturing plants are under water and the property damage will be heavy.

Cherry Valley, a mining town on the creek, was flooded within half an hour after the rain began. Foundations of houses were undermined and they toppled over into the flooded streets.

George Gillespie, his wife and four children were drowned in the house and the bodies of the children were found on a mattress floating in four or five feet of water.

Second in a Week.

Cannonsburg, Pa., hardly recovered from a flood last week, suffered heavily. Chartier's creek overflowed its banks and swept through the town, flooding the railroad and trolley tracks, and many of the streets. Houses were filled with water, but the residents received warning and got to places of safety. One man, who went back to recover some valuable papers, was crushed in the collapse of his house, and a boy fell into the flood when a porch on which he had taken refuge went down.

At Aveila, Washington county, Henry Crow's house was undermined by a little stream. Mrs. Crow was injured and Crow carried her out, but before he could return for the three children they were swept away.

After a Sultry Day.

After spending their force south and west of Pittsburgh the storms swung north to Butler county, where great damage was done.

The storms came after a day of unusual heat and burst with little warning.

Damage to railroads is very heavy. The Washington branch of the panhandle was so badly washed that all trains were annulled and in spite of the 500 men rushed from Pittsburgh to make repairs it is said several days will elapse before communication will be opened with Washington.

WEST AFTER LIQUOR DEALERS

Oregon's Governor Starts Crusade to Stop Shipments Into Dry Territory.

Portland, Ore., Sept. 3.—Gov. Oswald West, in his crusade against vice in this city, has attacked the breweries and wholesale liquor dealers. Notice that every shipment of liquor into "dry" sections would be followed up was served on the railroad companies as a warning from the governor that the companies accepted such a shipment at their own risk. This move follows intimations that the "blind pigs" were being freely supplied by wholesalers and the governor asks that the list of consignees be made available to state officers. The governor's action is taken as a reply to reports that efforts to recall him had been set afoot by various interests opposed to his activities.

Part of Crowd Watching Aquatic Events Thrown in Heap and Women Injured.

Wichita, Kan., Sept. 3.—During the aquatic events at the municipal natatorium here, a section of the bleachers collapsed, injuring two women and a boy. Nicholas Hunk, who was sitting on the top row endeavored to save a little girl from falling under the seats. In doing so, both her feet were caught and crushed. Mrs. E. D. Maddux, who sat nearby, was badly injured when a board fell across her legs. Bert Peters, 6 years old, attempted to jump out of the way and was struck by falling timbers.

Mailmen Want Good Roads.

Hutchinson, Kan., Sept. 3.—A good roads lobby for the next session of the Kansas legislature was established here when the rural letter carriers voted at the Kansas rural letter carriers' convention to send two men to Topeka at the next legislative session to work for legislation for better roads. The state association will pay the expenses of the lobby. One hundred and fifty rural route carriers are attending the convention here.

Buying Mules at Fulton.

Fulton, Mo., Sept. 3.—Stock sales in Fulton were attended by one of the largest crowds of the year. September stock sales are the time for buying mule colts and mules for feeding purposes and many changed hands. Several nearby counties were represented and even Kentucky had a buyer on the ground.

The Maryville Conservatory of Music

Will Open the Regular Term Next Monday, Sept. 9th.

A SUMMER AT THE SEABREEZE HOTEL

Or How a Pretty Piano Player Won a Millionaire Husband.

By HELEN ROSS.

(Copyright, 1912, by Associated Literary Press.)

Maud Gault extracted a pin from her belt and carefully cut out a tiny advertisement from the newspaper before her.

"Young lady of refinement and culture desired as piano soloist at the Seabreeze hotel, Seabreeze, N. J. Board and room free. Liberal compensation. References desired," she read aloud.

"It's much better than trying to farm on land which will only raise rocks," she mused, "and as a chick-chick, Maudie, you are not a howling success. I'll ask Jimmy Brooks to take charge of the place this summer. Then if the superstitious Seabreeze hotel will have me, I'll sail forth to make use of my one talent."

The details attended to, and references given, Maud hurried the letter to the postoffice before there was time or opportunity for a change of mind. As luck would have it, the Seabreeze hotel did want her, for in less than a month, she was journeying towards the fashionable summer resort. All that the management had claimed for the position proved true. It was a desirable one. Accustomed as she had been in former happier years to an assured social position, Maud felt the change keenly at first. Soon, however, her common sense triumphed, and she settled down to her really pleasant duties with a will.

People came and went in one continual stream. Occasionally some kindred spirit, struck by the real sparkle and ability of Maud's playing, struck up a superficial acquaintance, but for the most part, for all the attention shown her, she might as well have been in Jericho.

Always a keen observer of human nature, the great hotel offered a rich field for observation. Gradually the humor of the situation struck her and she noticed many amusing details. Petty jealousies, hypocritical actions, heartburns, and aimless flirtations passed before her eyes in a never-ending procession. Then, too, the library was exceptionally good and much of her leisure was spent perusing its fascinating contents. As usual, at a summer resort, men were more or less rare. A male arrival was pounced upon eagerly, especially if he were inclined to be generous with the coin of the realm. To an onlooker the strivings and smallnesses were entertaining.

Several weeks after her arrival she noticed a stranger among the guests, an intellectual-looking, rather shabby young man. Maud reasoned that he must be most obscure since his presence caused not the slightest ripple in the sea of feminine hearts. He was completely ignored.

One evening at dinner, Maud, accompanied by the orchestra, played a number of East Indian melodies. As she stepped from the platform she noticed that the strange young man was regarding her fixedly, his handsome gray eyes filled with dreamy contentment.

"How very peculiar," thought Maud, "the average guest here would rather hear Yankee Doodle."

She went to the library, selected a book and settled down to an evening of quiet enjoyment. Suddenly she was aroused by a voice besides her. It was the shabby young man.

"Miss Gault, I wish to thank you for the pleasure your music has given me," he said in pleasant, well-bred accents.

Soon they were in an animated discussion of music and literature. The stranger was not only a gentleman, but a man of extreme culture as well.

"Why are you not at the beach party?" Maud inquired.

The young man smiled. "Because I was not invited. I can not afford to indulge in expensive summer pastimes. Consequently the girls have no time for me. Anyhow, why should I care when the very prettiest girl in the hotel is right here?"

Maud blushed and smiled, but as it was plain that he was sincere in his opinion, she allowed it to pass. Their talk drifted to lighter subjects, and before long the evening was over. The young man's name was James Clifford, and he was an author, he said.

A friendship sprang up between them which proved a source of great pleasure. Maud tactfully declined Mr. Clifford's simple invitations, vowing that she preferred the beach to all indoor amusements. The real reason was that she knew he was poor and could not afford even a slight sum.

One day they were sitting on the beach chatting when two fashionably dressed girls settled down near them. The last of one blew off and she jumped to her feet in pursuit. It landed at Maud's feet, and as she arose to return it, she and the owner came face to face. The girl laughed harshly, caught up the hat, and without a word of thanks, went back to her companion.

"That's the gifted Miss Gault who pounds the piano at the Seabreeze, with some obscure nobody. We really must go over there some night and listen to the cat concert," she observed sarcastically.

Mr. Clifford glanced at Maud. He knew that she must have heard, yet her expression was one of utter indifference.

"I'm so sorry, Miss Gault," he said.

"It really doesn't matter, I assure you," returned Maud. "Her father is the most corrupt politician in our state. My father, when governor, fought him and his interests for years. He ruined dad at last. Poor man, he died penniless. All he was able to leave me was a stony bit of farmland, while this man Warsh and his daughter are rolling in wealth. No wonder she is bitter—their money never procured a social position for her."

The young man exclaimed in surprise: "Why, you must be Governor Gault's daughter! I admired him more than any man in public life. It is an honor to meet his daughter. He put up a brave fight to protect his state from Warsh, and it will be remembered by the people for many a long day."

They shook hands and straightway forgot all about the incident in discussing the estimable qualities of the late governor.

Mr. Clifford stayed all summer, and before October came he and Maud were engaged to be married.

"I will not always be poor, nor will my wife ever repent her choice," he assured her.

Maud glanced at him proudly. In spite of his unfashionable garments, Mr. Clifford's bearing and appearance was that of a man who is bound to meet with success.

"As though that makes any difference," she whispered.

Summer drifted into autumn, and gradually the merry guests were departing to their homes. For Maud and Mr. Clifford those days were cloudless. Miss Warsh kept her word, and more than once Maud discerned her mocking face among the diners. One evening her harsh tones were audible all over the dining room as she rustled into it.

"Oh, girls, Robert Merrell just arrived. He came in the most stunning motor imaginable. I saw him when I entered the hotel a minute ago. He's at the desk now signing the register."

Breathless excitement followed this announcement. Robert Merrell was one of America's foremost capitalists. Maud sat on the little platform privately speculating as to the appearance of the famous man. When it was time for her solo, she straightway forgot all about him.

Suddenly she was conscious of a buzz of conversation, which died down to an expectant pause. She glanced up and saw two gentlemen enter the dining room. The elder she recognized at once as Robert Merrell. He was conversing with a companion in an affectionate, interested manner. And the other man was John Clifford!

It was fortunate for Maud that her solo ended just then, for she saw her fiancé and Mr. Merrell coming towards her.

"This is my future wife," announced Mr. Clifford proudly.

The great Merrell held out his hand and as Maud placed her own in it, drew her towards him and kissed her cheek.

"I am most happy to meet you, my dear," he said simply. "For years this absurd boy of mine has been afraid that his wealth would influence a girl in his favor. I have always wished him to marry young. Also, I am pleased to have him love Gault's girl."

"His wealth?" stammered Maud. Merrell looked from her to Clifford in surprise.

"I've never told her, father," the young man observed. Turning to Maud he added, "James Clifford is my pen-name. I am writing a book on 'The Worth of Social Position.' As James Merrell I am received with open arms. As James Clifford, to quote Miss Warsh, I am an obscure nobody. It has been an interesting experiment. I took the liberty of asking the hotel people to release you for the short time which remains of the season, and tomorrow we will be married. This is why my father is here. I own this hotel. Come now, dear, we will all dine together."

The trio passed on to a table, oblivious of the frantic curiosity—in fact oblivious to everything but their own happiness. So Miss Warsh's bitter remark "that the sly minx knew it all along," dissolved into the rosy hue of contentment which surrounded them.

Federal Judge Sanborn Takes Case Under Advisement.

Matter is to be Taken Before Higher Court for Opinion, No Matter Who Wins in Present Trial.

Denver, Sept. 3.—Judge W. H. Sanborn of the United States court of appeals here, sitting as United States district judge, late in the day took under advisement the case in which an attempt is being made to enjoin Charles Seassons, secretary of state of Kansas, from certifying to the county clerks of Kansas the names of eight national electors who have expressed determination to vote for Roosevelt.

C. I. Long, former senator; Fred J. Stanley, national Republican committeeman, and D. R. Hite represented the plaintiffs, while the defense was represented by John Dawson, attorney general of Kansas, and L. W. Keplinger. Both sides declared a determination to appeal, regardless of Judge Sanborn's decision.

Temporary Order Dead Issue. The contention of the ten Kansas electors is that President Taft and Vice-President Sherman were nominated for re-election by fraud.

The case originally was brought before Judge Smith McPherson of the sixth federal district, who issued an order temporarily restraining the secretary of state from certifying to the names of these electors and setting the case for hearing in this district.

The temporary order issued by Judge McPherson restraining the canvassing board from certifying the names to the county clerks is agreed to be a dead issue as to the canvassing board, because the names had been certified by the canvassing board before the order was served.

"Party in Kansas is Different"

The plaintiffs contended the regular Republican party of Kansas was that party recognized as such at the Chicago national convention, and the names of the electors who would not support the candidates named at that convention had no right on the regular Republican ticket.

"The Republican party in Kansas is different from the national Republican party," declared L. W. Keplinger, "and the national party has no legal right or authority to dictate to the state party, nor can the federal courts dictate as to how electors may be named, or who shall be named to the electoral college from Kansas."

Kansas City Laboring Men Celebrated Holiday for Once Without Drenching—Nearly 8,000 in Line.

Kansas City, Sept. 3.—For the first time in six years organized labor has celebrated its annual fete day and has given its annual parade without being drenched by September showers. The only apparent moisture in the Labor day parade here was perspiration, noticeable on the faces of some of those who marched in the big industrial army from the Labor Temple at Fourteenth and Woodland to Eighth and Grand avenue. Between 6,000 and 8,000 union men and women were in the parade.

MERCHANTSHIP WENT TO BOTTOM

Crew Had Narrow Escape When Steamer Burned and Sunk.

Baltimore, Sept. 3.—After an outbreak of fire, which rapidly swept through the hold, the steamer Nanucket of the Merchants' and Miners' Transportation company turned over and sank to the bottom of Baltimore harbor. Firemen and members of the crew who had been fighting the flames from the deck of the ship narrowly missed death. Frantically they clung to the masts, stanchions and parts of the rigging as the plunge was made. All about 40 in number, were rescued by fire and police boats. The vessel was valued at $450,000.

Died Awaiting Pensions.

Topeka, Sept. 3.—While congress was holding up the pension appropriation bill last month more than 100 soldiers and sailors paid through the Topeka pension agency, died. In one day 28 pension checks were returned with information that the pensioners had died between August 1 and the time the pension was received.

Because School Was Refused.

St. Joseph, Mo., Sept. 3.—Because her father would not consent to send her to a boarding school, Merle Moore, 22 years old, daughter of J. A. Moore, assistant cashier of the Farmers and Merchants bank of Stanberry, Mo., committed suicide by drinking carbolio acid at her home in Stanberry in the presence of her parents.

Made Ill by Forced Feeding.

London, Sept. 3.—Mrs. Mary Leigh, the suffragette sentenced to five years' penal servitude in London for attempting to burn the Theater Royal in Dublin, has collapsed as a result of prolonged forcible feeding.

FOUGHT ON VEGETABLE DIET

Great Warriors of Homer Were Not Sufferers From Insufficient Domestic Help.

The heroes of Homer prepared their food with their own hands, and were not, therefore, sufferers from insufficient domestic help. In the happy simplicity of the Homeric ages, writes Mr. F. W. Hackwood in "Good Cheer," the great heroes who dealt such terrible blows, leaving death and desolation behind them, when they reposed after their exploits, partook of a blamable dish of beans or a plate of hominy lentils.

It may be difficult to imagine Diomedes in the act of peeling an onion or Achilles washing cabbage. But although the wise Ulysses roasted, with his own hands, a sirloin of beef, vegetables occupied the most conspicuous places at all the great banquets of ancient Greece.

Parsley formed the crown with which Hercules, as conqueror of the Nemean lion, crowned himself; Anacreon celebrates the plant as the emblem of joy and festivity. Fable makes parsley the food of courtesers; the warriors of Homer fed their chargers with it for battle.

The cabbage was adored by the Egyptians, who raised altars to it. Afterward they made this strange god the first dish in their repast. The Greeks and Romans ascribed to it the happy quality of preserving from drunkenness, and looked upon it as a sovereign remedy against paralysis. Alexander found the onion in Egypt, where the Hebrews had learned to like it. He had it cultivated in Greece, and given as food to his troops, in the belief that it excited martial ardor. Whosoever wishes to preserve his health, says an ancient saw, should eat every morning, before breakfast, young onions and honey. But this does not sound like a very tempting preservative.

Asa is said to be the native soil of the asparagus. Yet the Romans cultivated it with such marvelous success that the stalks raised at Ravenna are said to have weighed three pounds each, and we are asked to believe that the African variety, grown in Libya, reached a height of 12 feet.

TAKE INTEREST IN ANCESTRY

Americans Coming to Believe Study of Genealogy Is of Some Consequence.

The growing interest in ancestry indicates that Americans are fast coming to believe that it is of some consequence to know from whom they are descended. Long lines of ancestry are revealed in each person, and this ancestry, if understood, will assist materially in various directions.

It is a pride which deserves encouragement. One cannot know too much about himself, and in acquiring a knowledge of his ancestors he is learning the most important facts about his own personality. This has been demonstrated so many times that it is needless to enter into extended argument to prove the assertion.

Genealogy is the most fascinating branch of history. And well it may be, since it is the one branch which has life. Everything else may be a mere catalogue of dates, but genealogy introduces the student to the actual personages and offers him the most complete means of obtaining an accurate understanding of the occurrences of the past. These are only a few observations regarding this study of ancestry, a study which is becoming more and more popular, and is, in numerous ways, revolutionizing the modern comprehension of events in the historic past.—Magazine of American History.

Along the Peruvian Coast.

Off shore—there was neither bay nor light in the even line of surf—a deserted brigantine at anchor dipped slowly with the long Pacific swells, its yards and decks white like a leper from the unmolested frigate birds and sea fowl that made it home. Beyond, here and there, a patched sail of no particular size or shape was barely filled by the lightest of breezes; occasionally as one crept past the outfit developed into a raft on the after part of which raised a rough platform of palm on which was housed the Indian fisherman and his crew or family. A few abandoned square tins—the well-known export tins of Rockefeller—held the drinking water, an earthen pot their food, and on this flimsy contraption they would put out miles to sea. In beating to windward a loose board or piece from a packing case is poked through the crevices to act as a centerboard.—Outing.

A Drummer Boy Astray.

A Scotch story is that of a diminutive drummer in a local brass band, who was in the habit when out parading with his comrades of walking by sound and not by sight, owing to his drug being so high that he was unable to see over it. The band, on Saturday afternoon, paraded usually in one direction, but the other day the leader thought he would change the route a little, and turned down a by-street. The drummer, unaware of this movement, kept on his accustomed way, drumming as hard as ever he could. By and by, after finishing his part, and not hearing the others, he stopped, and, pushing his drum to one side, he looked to see what was the matter. His astonishment may be imagined at finding that he was alone. "Hae!" he cried to some bystanders, "has any o' ye seen a band hereabouts?"—The Argonaut.
